Core Curriculum

Faith, Reason, and Revelation

Instructor: Corey Stephan, Ph.D.

- Email: corey.stephan@stthom.edu
- Office Hours: Mondays from 1:00-2:30 PM in Malloy Hall #232 and by appointment (email in advance)

Spring 2023

Notes:

1. As of the start of the semester, some submission deadlines and other aspects of this syllabus remain to be determined.
2. As the instructor, I reserve the right to revise this syllabus at any time during the semester.

Faith and reason are like two wings on which the human spirit rises to the contemplation of truth; and God has placed in the human heart a desire to know the truth—in a word, to know himself—so that, by knowing and loving God, men and women may also come to the fullness of truth about themselves.

- St. John Paul II, Fides et Ratio, §1

An introductory course in fundamental Catholic theology, presenting the basic openness of the human person to divine revelation, the historical veracity of that revelation, and selected major theological themes in the Catholic worldview, with an eye to their coherence with one another and with the human person.

Journey

In this course, you will be introduced to what Catholic theology is, what its distinctive features and principles are, and why Catholic belief is reasonable. In so doing, you will deepen your understanding of yourself as a rational, free being, capable of affirming what is true and of freely embracing the purpose of your existence.

Destination

By the end of the semester:

1. You will explain the reasonableness of the Christian worldview in terms of human rationality and freedom.
2. You will be able to define central Christian principles of faith, nature, grace, creation, and sin.
3. You will explain the historical veracity of the Gospel accounts through a thorough analysis of issues of dating, genre, authorship, and external and internal witnesses.
4. You will articulate the notion of Christian revelation, as well as modern objections.

I, Dr. Stephan, will consider anything short of this to be a failure—most likely mine, but possibly yours. This must be a team effort.

To that end, we have a Faith, Reason, & Revelation Class Survey & Contract that all of us, myself included, are required to sign by the end of the first week.

Above all, note that you are expected:

1. To do all assigned readings and watch or listen to all assigned lectures every week,
2. To be prepared for engaging full-group and small group discussions every class meeting.

Class Webpage

The class webpage, which I (Dr. Stephan) host on my professional website (coreystephan.com), will contain:

- this syllabus,
- lecture recordings (audio and/or video),
- blog posts,
- hyperlinks to class readings, and
- other (semi-)permanent materials related to the class.

Required Books

All of these books are required in order to participate in the class:

1. The Catholic Study Bible: Third Edition [Catholic Study Bible]
 - ISBN 9780190267230

2. The Catechism of the Catholic Church [CCC]
 - ISBN 0385508190 or 1601376499
 - Also available online on the Vatican website
3. Mother Teresa, Where There is Love, There is God [Teresa]
 - ISBN 9780385531801
4. Brant Pitre, The Case for Jesus [Pitre]
 - ISBN 978-0-385-36593-2

I will distribute other assigned readings either as .pdf scans on Blackboard or via hyperlinks to online materials in the public domain (in the class webpage that is linked above).

Themes

The course is divided into three thematic units:

1. What are Faith and Reason?
 2. Apparent Clashes of Faith and Reason
 3. Revelation

Grades

The class has four grades, each of which will allow you to foster (and showcase) a different set of skills:

I. SEMESTER LONG: (25%) TRUTH TROOP TEAM TASKS

- Regular tasks with in-class learning groups, including sketches
- Graded as A (strong), B (good), C/D (poor), and F (did not write or obviously failed)

University Policies

Accommodations

In accordance with Section 504 of the Federal Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), the University of St. Thomas will provide academic accommodations to ensure access for students with disabilities.

Students with disabilities who require accommodations for this class, must register with the Office of Access & Disability Services (ADS) and provide documentation of a disability to determine what accommodations are most appropriate. Please note that accommodations are not retroactive and disability accommodations are not provided until a Course Accessibility Letter has been provided to the instructor. For questions regarding academic accommodations and accessibility, please contact the Office of Access and Disability Services by email at ACCESS@STTHOM.EDU, or visit the ADS website at STTHOM.EDU/ACCESS.

Preparation

You must have all the required textbooks, ideally as soon as the class begins. Their ISBN numbers must match those on the syllabus. It is your responsibility, not the bookstore's, to arrange to have the proper books.

Meetings

I encourage you to meet with me outside of the classroom, especially for guidance on the readings and assignments. Generally, appointments will be handled during my office hours (as listed at the beginning of this document).

Communication

You must use university email or Teams for electronic correspondence with me. Any lost or missed communication as a result of using third party email, or failing to maintain one's UST email account under quota will be considered the student's fault.

Other Class Policies

Late Submissions

I know that life happens, and I know that the best work sometimes has to be submitted late (the Sistine Chapel's painting went behind schedule, after all).

At the same time, this class is a team effort, so we all must strive to have our work to share with each other on time. Even one 'weak link' can tear down everyone's experience; you (as an individual student) really do matter to the class as a whole.

With all that in mind, I have structured class assignments in such a way that there should not be any legitimate reason for anyone to make a late submission. Yet, for individual project submissions for which late submissions are actually viable (as judged by me, Dr. Stephan), I will not penalize students for late submissions.

Revision

For whichever projects for which this is possible (as noted explicitly by me, Dr. Stephan):

If you are not satisfied with your grade, you may do a full revision (or even start from scratch) and resubmit for full credit as though it were your first submission.

All writing, and, indeed, all creative production (engineering, painting, coding, etc.), is, after all, revision.

Statement on Software Freedom

I am a longtime advocate of Free Software as defined by the Free Software Foundation. I encourage you to teach yourself about software freedom. For my part, I promise that I will never require you to use non-free software, except tools that are currently required as part of our experience at the University of St. Thomas (e.g. Microsoft Teams). To the contrary, whenever possible, I will encourage or require you even to submit your work in formats with open standards.
